

Who holds your CSE records?

CSE (Certificate of Secondary Education) examinations (1965–1987) were administered by regional exam boards and results are now held according to which region the exams were taken in. OCR holds the records for the following exam boards:

- Southern Regional Examinations Board
- The West Midlands Examination Board
- East Midland Regional Examinations Board

Below is a map of the regions that are covered by OCR followed by a full list of regions and which awarding bodies now hold the CSE records. Overseas records are also held by OCR. (Note that this list may not cover historical border changes and, whilst we will endeavour to locate your results, unfortunately, we are unable to guarantee success.)
