Date – Morning/Afternoon
Time allowed: 1 hour 30 minutes

OCR supplied materials:
• 12 page Answer Booklet

Other materials required:
• None

INSTRUCTIONS
• Use black ink.
• Complete the boxes above with your name, centre number and candidate number.
• Answer all the questions in Section A and one question in Section B.
• Write your answer to each question on the Answer Booklet
• Do not write in the bar codes.

INFORMATION
• The total mark for this paper is 50.
• The marks for each question are shown in brackets [ ].
• Quality of extended responses will be assessed in questions marked with an asterisk (*).
• This document consists of 8 pages.
Section A
Mid Tudor Crises 1547–1558

Study the three sources and then answer both questions.

1 Use your knowledge of the stability of the monarchy from 1547 to 1558 to assess how useful Source A is as evidence of the problems caused by a female monarch marrying a foreigner. [10]

2 Using these three sources in their historical context, assess how far they support the view that female rule was a serious problem in the 1550s. [20]

Source A: Edward VI issues his ‘Devise for the Succession’ setting out who shall succeed to the crown in the event of his death.

As Lady Mary and Lady Elizabeth are both illegitimate they have no claim to the crown. As half blood to us, they would be barred by ancient law and custom of this realm and could not succeed us even if legitimate. Were the said Mary or Elizabeth to have the crown of England and marry a foreigner, he would practise his own country’s laws and customs within this realm. This would utterly subvert the commonwealth of this our realm. We therefore declare that the crown shall, for lack of issue of our body, come firstly to the eldest son of Lady Frances Grey or, secondly, to the Lady Jane and her male heirs.

Letters Patent for the limitation of the Crown, 21 June 1553

Source B: Having disregarded her Council’s advice to leave the capital for her own protection, Queen Mary addresses the citizens of London to rally their support against Wyatt’s approaching rebels.

At my coronation, when I was wedded to this realm, you promised to obey me. If a Prince may earnestly love her subjects as a mother loves her child, then be sure that I, your lady and mistress, love and favour you as tenderly. Thus loving you, I must think that you love me as faithfully; so I am sure we shall speedily overthrow these rebels.

Mary I, Guildhall speech, 1 February 1554
Source C: The Act of Parliament for a marriage treaty between Mary I and Prince Philip of Spain sets out the terms to protect English interests.

This treaty greatly honours and benefits England. The prince shall enjoy, jointly, the style and honour of king. He shall happily help administer England, preserving its rights, laws, privileges and customs. The Queen shall have total control of all offices, lands and revenues, and grant them to natural born Englishmen. Sincere friendship with Spain will be happily established forever, God willing, to benefit their successors. Should no children be born and the queen die before him, he shall accept the lawful heir. The prince shall take no jewels abroad, nor ships, guns or supplies. He shall renew defences of the realm. By this marriage, England shall not be entangled in war, and the prince shall observe England’s peace with France.

Section B

The Later Tudors

Answer ONE question.

EITHER

3* How effectively did Elizabeth deal with the problems she faced in 1558? [20]

OR

4* ‘The Puritan threat to Elizabeth was never serious.’ How far do you agree? [20]
MARKING INSTRUCTIONS

PREPARATION FOR MARKING

SCORIS

1. Make sure that you have accessed and completed the relevant training packages for on-screen marking: scoris assessor Online Training; OCR Essential Guide to Marking.

2. Make sure that you have read and understood the mark scheme and the question paper for this unit. These are posted on the RM Cambridge Assessment Support Portal http://www.rm.com/support/ca

3. Log-in to scoris and mark the required number of practice responses (“scripts”) and the required number of standardisation responses.

   YOU MUST MARK 10 PRACTICE AND 10 STANDARDISATION RESPONSES BEFORE YOU CAN BE APPROVED TO MARK LIVE SCRIPTS.

TRADITIONAL

Before the Standardisation meeting you must mark at least 10 scripts from several centres. For this preliminary marking you should use pencil and follow the mark scheme. Bring these marked scripts to the meeting.

MARKING

1. Mark strictly to the mark scheme.

2. Marks awarded must relate directly to the marking criteria.

3. The schedule of dates is very important. It is essential that you meet the scoris 50% and 100% (traditional 50% Batch 1 and 100% Batch 2) deadlines. If you experience problems, you must contact your Team Leader (Supervisor) without delay.

4. If you are in any doubt about applying the mark scheme, consult your Team Leader by telephone, email or via the scoris messaging system.
5. Work crossed out:
   a. where a candidate crosses out an answer and provides an alternative response, the crossed out response is not marked and gains no marks
   b. if a candidate crosses out an answer to a whole question and makes no second attempt, and if the inclusion of the answer does not cause a rubric infringement, the assessor should attempt to mark the crossed out answer and award marks appropriately.

6. Always check the pages (and additional objects if present) at the end of the response in case any answers have been continued there. If the candidate has continued an answer there then add a tick to confirm that the work has been seen.

7. There is a NR (No Response) option. Award NR (No Response)
   - if there is nothing written at all in the answer space
   - OR if there is a comment which does not in any way relate to the question (e.g. ‘can’t do’, ‘don’t know’)
   - OR if there is a mark (e.g. a dash, a question mark) which isn’t an attempt at the question.
   Note: Award 0 marks – for an attempt that earns no credit (including copying out the question).

8. The scoris comments box is used by your Team Leader to explain the marking of the practice responses. Please refer to these comments when checking your practice responses. Do not use the comments box for any other reason.
   If you have any questions or comments for your Team Leader, use the phone, the scoris messaging system, or e-mail.

9. Assistant Examiners will send a brief report on the performance of candidates to their Team Leader (Supervisor) via email by the end of the marking period. The report should contain notes on particular strengths displayed as well as common errors or weaknesses. Constructive criticism of the question paper/mark scheme is also appreciated.

10. For answers marked by levels of response:
   a. To determine the level – start at the highest level and work down until you reach the level that matches the answer
   b. To determine the mark within the level, consider the following:
Descriptor | Award mark
---|---
On the borderline of this level and the one below | At bottom of level
Just enough achievement on balance for this level | Above bottom and either below middle or at middle of level (depending on number of marks available)
Meets the criteria but with some slight inconsistency | Above middle and either below top of level or at middle of level (depending on number of marks available)
Consistently meets the criteria for this level | At top of level

12. Subject–specific Marking Instructions

INTRODUCTION

Your first task as an Examiner is to become thoroughly familiar with the material on which the examination depends. This material includes:

- the specification, especially the assessment objectives
- the question paper and its rubrics
- the mark scheme.

You should ensure that you have copies of these materials.

You should ensure also that you are familiar with the administrative procedures related to the marking process. These are set out in the OCR booklet Instructions for Examiners. If you are examining for the first time, please read carefully Appendix 5 Introduction to Script Marking: Notes for New Examiners.

Please ask for help or guidance whenever you need it. Your first point of contact is your Team Leader.
USING THE MARK SCHEME

Please study this Mark Scheme carefully. The Mark Scheme is an integral part of the process that begins with the setting of the question paper and ends with the awarding of grades. Question papers and Mark Schemes are developed in association with each other so that issues of differentiation and positive achievement can be addressed from the very start.

This Mark Scheme is a working document; it is not exhaustive; it does not provide ‘correct’ answers. The Mark Scheme can only provide ‘best guesses’ about how the question will work out, and it is subject to revision after we have looked at a wide range of scripts.

The Examiners’ Standardisation Meeting will ensure that the Mark Scheme covers the range of candidates’ responses to the questions, and that all Examiners understand and apply the Mark Scheme in the same way. The Mark Scheme will be discussed and amended at the meeting, and administrative procedures will be confirmed. Co-ordination scripts will be issued at the meeting to exemplify aspects of candidates’ responses and achievements; the co-ordination scripts then become part of this Mark Scheme.

Before the Standardisation Meeting, you should read and mark in pencil a number of scripts, in order to gain an impression of the range of responses and achievement that may be expected.

Please read carefully all the scripts in your allocation and make every effort to look positively for achievement throughout the ability range. Always be prepared to use the full range of marks.
INFORMATION AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR EXAMINERS

1. The co-ordination scripts provide you with examples of the standard of each band. The marks awarded for these scripts will have been agreed by the Team Leaders and will be discussed fully at the Examiners’ Co-ordination Meeting.

2. The specific task-related indicative content for each question will help you to understand how the band descriptors may be applied. However, this indicative content does not constitute the mark scheme: it is material that candidates might use, grouped according to each assessment objective tested by the question. Rigid demands for ‘what must be a good answer’ would lead to a distorted assessment.

3. Candidates’ answers must be relevant to the question. Beware of prepared answers that do not show the candidate’s thought and which have not been adapted to the thrust of the question. Beware also of answers where candidates attempt to reproduce interpretations and concepts that they have been taught but have only partially understood.

| 1        | Use your knowledge of the stability of the monarchy from 1547 to 1558 to assess how useful Source A is as evidence of the problems caused by a female monarch marrying a foreigner. | 10    | - No set answer is expected.
- The answer must assess utility for the issue specified. Analysis and evaluation of utility for other issues is not required and should not be credited.
- Knowledge must not be credited in isolation, it should only be credited where it is used to analyse and evaluate the sources, in line with descriptions in the levels mark scheme. |

- In discussing how Source A is useful, answers might consider that it expresses fears about the marriage of a female ruler to a foreigner.
- Answers might consider that Source A takes a wholly negative view that the marriage of a female ruler to a foreigner would undermine the whole country; the problem is seen as insoluble.
- Answers might consider the Provenance of Source A which is from 1553 when Edward was dying and was trying to prevent the succession of the Catholic Mary.
- Answers might consider the role of Northumberland in the Devise regarding its value as evidence.
- Answers might consider the tone of the language used, which is alarming, for example that a foreign marriage would ‘utterly subvert’ the good of the realm.

| 2        | Using these three sources in their historical context, assess how far they support the view that female rule was a serious problem in the 1550’s
- In discussing how Source A does or does not support the view, answers might refer to the issues being illegitimacy and problems related to an unmarried woman that are the problem rather than to the a female ruler per se as Lady Jane Grey is proposed as a possible heir.
- In discussing the provenance of Source A, answers might consider that Edward as King was very concerned with to maintain the protestant faith and also about his position as some did not consider Mary illegitimate.
- In discussing the historical context of Source A, answers might argue that although A does not consider that Lady Jane’s accession presented a problem as a female ruler, this did not prove to be true.
- In discussing how Source B does or does not support the view, answers might refer to the promises at the Coronation to be loyal to a female ruler. Also the way a female ruler might use it to her advantage in the type of emotional appeal made to her subjects. However, Mary was facing a rebellion – though this was against her religion not because she was female.
- In discussing the provenance of Source B, answers might consider the nature of this appeal, having to stress loyalty at the coronation in order to gain support against a rebellion may not make it reliable evidence for a woman ruler not causing problems. | 20    | - No set answer is expected.
- At Level 5 there will be judgement about the issue in the question.
- To be valid judgements, they must be supported by accurate and relevant material.
- Knowledge must not be credited in isolation, it should only be credited where it is used to analyse and evaluate the sources, in line with descriptions in the levels mark scheme. |
In discussing the historical context of Source B, answers might argue that the defeat of Wyatt confirmed the view that there could be loyalty to a woman ruler, but this was at the start of the reign before later problems.

In discussing how Source C does or does not support the view, candidates might refer to the conditions imposed on Philip. This might argue that a female ruler did not pose a problem as parliament could control her consort or it might argue that it was a problem and parliament had to be used to impose conditions to overcome it.

In discussing the provenance of Source C, answers might look at the way parliament was used to establish quite detailed restrictions, but how these were to be enforced was not clear.

In discussing the historical context of Source C, answers might argue that although A might seem to have resolved the problems of a female ruler being dominated by her husband, in practice war was not avoided and Spanish influence did become an issue.
Question 3*

How effectively did Elizabeth deal with the problems she faced in 1558?

- In arguing that Elizabeth was effective in dealing with the problems she faced in 1558, answers might consider that she was able to achieve a protestant religious settlement despite most of the nation being Catholic.
- Answers might consider that she was able to prevent foreign attack from either Catholic powers of France or Spain despite being seen by them as illegitimate.
- Answers might consider that she was effective in establishing a Council with members who she could trust, such as Cecil.
- Answers might consider that she was able to bring about peace with France so avoid the cost of war.

- In arguing that Elizabeth was less effective, answers might consider the difficulties she faced in getting the religious settlement passed.
- Answers might consider that there was still the threat of a catholic crusade against her.
- Answers might consider that Elizabeth was unable to deal with the claim posed by Mary Stuart.
- Answers might consider that Elizabeth was not effective in solving the financial problems she inherited.

| 3* | How effectively did Elizabeth deal with the problems she faced in 1558? | 20 | No set answer is expected.
At Level 5 there will be judgement as to the relative effectiveness with which she dealt with the problems.
At higher levels candidates might establish criteria against which to judge the effectiveness.
To be valid judgements, claims must be supported by relevant and accurate material. If not, they are assertions.
Knowledge must not be credited in isolation, it should only be credited where it is used as the basis for analysis and evaluation, in line with descriptions in the levels mark scheme. |

| 4*       | ‘The Puritan threat to Elizabeth was never serious.’ How far do you agree? | 20    | • No set answer is expected.
• At Level 5 and above there will be judgement as to the relative seriousness of the threat.
• At higher levels candidates might establish criteria against which to judge the threat.
• To be valid judgements, claims must be supported by relevant and accurate material. If not, they are assertions.
• Knowledge must not be credited in isolation, it should only be credited where it is used as the basis for analysis and evaluation, in line with descriptions in the levels mark scheme. |
|          | In arguing that the Puritan threat was never serious, answers might consider that the Puritans, unlike many Catholics, did not intend to remove Elizabeth from the throne.
|          | Answers might consider that many Puritans were conformists and were willing to accept the established church and that there were very few separatists.
|          | Answers might consider that Elizabeth was able to use her prerogative powers in parliament to defeat attempts at legislative change.
|          | Answers might consider that following the Marprelate Tracts the Puritan challenge had been defeated.
|          | In arguing that the Puritan threat was serious, answers might argue that they had the support of many of Elizabeth’s councillors.
|          | Answers might consider that the ‘Puritan choir’ provided an organised and significant voice to their concerns in parliament.
|          | Answers might consider that Puritan desires for the abolition of bishops was a challenge to Elizabeth’s belief in hierarchy.
|          | Answers might consider that Archbishop Grindal would not take action against prophesying and his suspension left the church without leadership. |
